MARTYRED LINCOLN.
His Birthday Anniversary Observed in Many Cities.

Lincoln Club of Portland Eulogizes Lincoln and Cheers for Reed.

Occasion Observed in New York and Chicago by Distinguished Gatherings.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 12. The annual banquet of the Lincoln Club of Portland tonight brought to City Hall an immense throng of prominent Republicans from all parts of the State and every leading man of the party in Portland was to be found. The hall was finely decorated and the tables presented a splendid appearance. Plates were laid for 650 and the galleries were crowded with people who paid admission to all the festivities and hear the speeches. Dinner was served soon after 8 o'clock and the guests who had assembled in the mayor's office and wide corridors marched in in twos. During the dinner there was a fine concert of vocal and instrumental music.

Following is the list of speakers at the after dinner exercises, the opening address being made by President George Libby, the others speaking in the order named: Governor Henry E. Cleaves, Mayor James P. Baxter, United States Senator John L. Wilson, of the State of Washington; Hon. Stephen O'Meara, of Boston; Congressman Wm. Atkin Smith, of Michigan; Hon. Herbert M. Heath, of Augusta.

The menu cards bore pictures of Lincoln and Reed. On the walls were large pictures of Lincoln, Reed and Governor Cleaves. Whenever Reed's name was mentioned there was great enthusiasm.

President Libby spoke as follows:

President Libby's Remarks.

Follow Citizens, Friends and Invited Guests: To extend your cordial greeting to this ever memorable and historic occasion to bid you a sincere and hearty welcome in behalf of the Lincoln Club, in observing the 87th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, is to me a great privilege and a high honor.

This magnificent gathering of earnest and patriotic citizens, within these walls, made sacred in the days of the nation's peril, by the presence of unique heroes, who have since taken their places in history, crowded together in the honor of the birth of the nation's hero, the world, like a herald trumpet-tongued, that in her onward march will never cease from the heart and memories of the American people, the name and fame of our martyred president, Abraham Lincoln.

As the mighty God with the higher quality of heart and soul and intellect, he looked into the not distant future, and saw what others had never even dreamed of before, that a house divided against itself cannot stand, that this nation could not exist permanently half slave and half free, and equal rights for all mankind were more sacred than any personal consideration, he gave freely and without reserve the best that was in his life.

Recognizing always what was purest and highest in him, he gave to the people of the United States an administration of the affairs of this government never excelled by a ruler who has wielded the scepter of power in republic, empire or kingdom in the history of the civilized world.

It was the first Republican President of the United States. Abraham Lincoln was indebted to the Republican party for the opportunity to initiate great reforms, affecting the freedom of millions of bondmen, and the peace and prosperity of the nation.

But the Republican party, the country and mankind are indebted to Abraham Lincoln for the enlightened and courageous statesmanship he exhibited in the most perilous crisis of the nation's history.

It was the Republican party that supported and encouraged the administration of Abraham Lincoln, from his inauguration on the 4th of March, 1861, until his assassination on the 14th of April, 1865, and it is the same Republican party that is gathering strength from every loyal and honest hand to this hour, to offer tribute to the memory of that grand and noble hero, who was its true and trusted leader in the most critical period of the nation's history.

Great and illustrious have been the achievements of the Republican party during its past history, and wise and able and efficient have been its great and noble leaders, and a great has been in the past, so it may be in the future.

In order that the standard already attained may be upheld, the convention will be held at St. Louis in the month of June, select as the standard bearer of the Republican party, in the coming campaign, a man who will inspire the people with confidence and honest courage.

One who converges with history, with the nation, who has at heart the great interests of the country, who is both enlightened and patriotic, who will merge his own personal interest in the good of the people of this republic, whose word will be received with confidence and respect by all sections of the country, and who will lend us on a resplendent victory; such a man, having these attributes and more already belonging to the country, and should receive the nomination, I refer to our distinguished fellow citizen, Hon. Thomas B. Reed.

God bless you, your enthusiasm will show to the country and to the world, when the report of this meeting shall be flashed over the wires to every part of the globe, that Thomas Brackett Reed is not without honor even in his own country and his whereabouts.

The other speeches were full of applause and were greeted with applause.

The following telegram from Speaker Reed was read:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.

George Libby, Esq., President of Lincoln's public library, and Lincoln's public library, an example of true Republicanism; all possible progress consistent with order; all possible conservatism, but no half civilization. He was not satisfied until slavery was the root of the ultimate extinction. He believed that the world would not exist without this extinction, and we shall not be satisfied until the equal liberty of all citizens is on the road to ultimate establishment. May we without war, in peace and prosperity, live to see our principles established, for they are right. T. B. Reed.

Dowdy's Office, New York, Feb. 12. Guests and members of the Republican Club tonight celebrated the birthday of Abraham Lincoln at the annual banquet of the Marquette Club at the Auditorium Hotel. More than 1,100 prominent Republicans of this and other cities made the event a memorable one by voting for McKinley.

Major McKinley delivered an oration on "The Impending Contest." There was a great outburst of enthusiasm when he expressed the hope that Major McKinley would be the next President.

Mr. Clegg spoke on "Our Home in the South," and there was another demonstration when he named Major McKinley as the logical candidate of the new South and his best friend because of his protection principles. Gov. Upham also spoke.

WASHINGTON NEWS

Redemption of Bank Notes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. Mr. Teller (Rep., Col.) introduced a bill in the Senate to amend the act authorizing the redemption of national bank notes and it was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Hansbrough (Rep., N. D.) reported from the Library Committee that he would make the 12th of February (Lincoln's birthday) a national holiday. It was voted to accept the resolution.

The agency deficiency bill was taken up. An amendment for the appointment of expert money counters in the treasury, which led yesterday to the discussion of civil service, was the last question reached. It was agreed to wait for further discussion and without division.

The committee amendment appropriating $20,000 for fees and expenses of United States marshals and deputies provoked discussion in which the whole treasury was denounced as an outrage.

Mr. Clegg introduced a bill to allow the use of the Indian Territory to the Indians.

Mr. Teller (Rep., N. Y.) said he intended to propose an amendment to the bill, but would not do so now. He intended to introduce a separate bill to create Jackson's birthday, the 8th of January, a national holiday.

Mr. Hale thought it would be very fitting and a graceful thing to pass the bill to-day, thus being the 12th of February.

Mr. Hawley (Rep., Conn.) said he did not wish to act ungraciously in the matter but he was anxious to create any more national holidays.

There was discussion on the bill to make the 12th of February a national holiday.

After a short pause he said: "I believe I will object." Mr. Hale, "It can only be done by unanimous consent."

The Senate then adjourned until to-morrow.

IN THE HOUSE

Mr. Cannon (Rep., Mass.) reported from the Committee on Appropriations the unanimous approval of the Senate joint resolution appropriating $75,000 for the joint expenses of a survey of the line between Alaska and the British possessions.

Mr. Hale (Rep., N. J.) explained that the survey was necessary as a preliminary to the conversion to be entered into by the United States and Great Britain for the purpose of determining the boundary line.

Recalling then to the mind silver coins, Mr. Hale (Rep., N. J.) said he intended to propose an amendment to the bill to prohibit the use of silver coins.

Trust What Time Has Endorsed

There is not a medicine in use to day which possesses the confidence of the public so great an extent as JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. For more than eighty years it has stood upon its own intrinsic worth and merit, while generation after generation have used it and transmitted the knowledge of its excellence to their children, a valuable inheritance. The best evidence of its extraordinary value is the fact that in the State, where it originated, it is still the leading family medicine. The sale there is steadily increasing.

For many years since I first learned of the celebrated medicine for the common ills of life, JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT, and for more than forty years I have used it, and have never been sorry for the toll it ever has required of my customers with it ever since, (over fifty years) with the exception of sprains, bruises, and the like, and the most severe rheumatism, and should any one be in need of a good liniment, in use for all purposes, I would heartily recommend it.

JOHN & SONS, New Bedford, Mass.

It was invented by the late Dr. A. Johnson, of Bangor, Me., an old fashioned, kindly hearted Family Physician. It is recommended by physicians everywhere. All who use it are amazed at its wonderful power and praise it ever after.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Every Mother should have it in the house, suffering children love it. It promotes an increase of vital activity in the system, and thus cures diseases which otherwise gradually erodes inflammation without irritation.

I have used your Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for more than forty years, and have found it to be a valuable remedy for sprains, bruises, and the like, and should any one be in need of a good liniment, in use for all purposes, I would heartily recommend it.

JOHN & SONS, New Bedford, Mass.

I suppose the old Johnson's Anodyne Liniment outlives its time, but it is a good one, and I have it in my house to this day. It is wonderful, and should any one be in need of a good liniment, in use for all purposes, I would heartily recommend it.

Mrs. W. H. Estes, North Grafton, Mass.

The Doctor's Signature is on the label.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, six boxes, $1.00, post paid to druggists. Price 15c. per box.

Harper's Weekly

IN 1856.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is a journal for the whole country. It deals with the events of the world that are important to Americans.

In carrying out this policy, in 1856, Julian H. Harmer, then a young man, and now a successful man, through the West, Western Islands, Davis Strait, and the Arctic, the publications of the news were never equalled and illustrated by Rufus F. Youmans; Frederic Remington, now of the "Illustrated London News," and Frank H. Bigelow attended the opening of the "Polar Canal."

Specific mention will be given to every notable happening. The chief events in the life of our country and those of the world will be artfully and ingeniously presented.

The WEEKLY will continue to be an independent organ of good government and sound money.

In fiction the WEEKLY will be especially strong and interesting. In its editorial and other departments, it will continue to be an independent organ of good government and sound money.
